Ethos & Core Principals

Integrity and transparency

Ethos

It is appreciated that security and investigations can be a costly business that it is often perceived to simply drain funds and resources rather than contribute to the growth and profits of a company.

At Peregrine International, we believe that effective security is an integral part of business development and continued growth, through proactive protective measures or efficient detection of breaches in security.

It is our aim to deliver cost effective results swiftly. We do not believe in enforcing changes unnecessarily, therefore increasing costs to the client. It is Peregrine International's preferred method to overcome security issues by adapting current resources or introducing new policies and procedures, rather than introducing costly new measures without valid justification.

We believe in promoting Peregrine International through good business practice, rather than prolonging the customer's misfortune and further adding to their costs.

Core Principals

- ◆ Assist business development and growth – protect contracts and secure business information; support new projects; supply relevant, concise and timely information; advise on competitors
